

PCLA Member's Office - Open!

PCLA Members Office is a place for the members of PCLA to meet up on daily basis outside of the writing forums. This use to be our staff office but was never used, Shannon and the staff agreed that it would be more beneficial for the members than for the staff.

The office has everything from a chatroom, library, knowledge base, forums, and so much more! This is the "member's office" which means you will need to build it, share links and information that you think will be helpful to the PCLA members. You will need a post count of 50 or more to join the office.

Please understand that all members are manually approved so please allow at least 24 hours for the staff to approve your application. If you have any problems please contact Vivian our board moderator. The rules apply for the office the same as they do for the community. If you have any questions please contact Vivian our board moderator.

www.poetryclub.com is being redesigned and updated. Some links will work some will not. But the foundation is laid and we will be working from there as our webmaster (midnightrose) has time. We have added an Award Gallery and we will also be doing a "Members Gallery" this will showcase the writers here at PCLA. Once we get this section up and running we will personally email you for a bio and some information on you as a writer. If you do not want to be part of the Members Gallery please email Amy Boyer (midnightrose) and she will make sure you are not added to this section of our website. Poem of the Week will be on our main website as well every week. Designing a website is very time consuming and Amy is working very hard to have our main website to represent the community and the writers!

© 1999 / 2009 The Poetry Club - Page design by Shannon Wendler
To remove your name from our mailing list, please click here.
Questions or comments? E-mail us at Vivian@poetryclub.com